ALLIED AERIAL OFFENSIVE IS ACCELERATED

American Bombers Follow Up Heavy RAF Night Attack on Munich by Blasting France

16 ARE REPORTED LOST

London, Sept. 7.—(P)—American heavy and medium bombers, carrying the Allied aerial offensive against western Europe into the sixth straight day, blasted targets in Belgium and France this morning following a heavy RAF night attack on Munich, birchplace of the Nazi party and seat of important German war industries.

Large formations of Flying Fortresses and Marauders spearheaded the daylight assaults, which were launched only a few hours after the RAF night raiders returned to their bases.

The target of the British overnight assault was identified first by Berlin radio, a preliminary London announcement saying merely that Germany had again been bombed.

In addition to being the site of important industries, Munich is a vital communications center (Turn to Page Seven)

Nation's Holiday Fatalities May Exceed Last Year's 350

The nation's Labor Day weekend death toll, swelled by one of the worst disasters in American railroad history and a hotel fire today appeared to have approached, if not surpassed, last year's total of 350 fatalities.

Although traffic, drowning and miscellaneous deaths and the hotel fire accounted for only 286 lives over the three-day holiday, a complete list of those killed in the wreck of the Congressional Limited at Philadelphia may bring the total above the 1942 figure.

The National Safety Council has predicted between 300 and 500 violent deaths this holiday. In 1941 they were 614 killed, and the year before, 514.

Of the deaths so far recorded, excluding two railroad wrecks and a hotel fire, 137 were traffic victims and 113 miscellaneous, including 23 drownings.

California had the highest total 26 traffic fatalities and 18 miscellaneous deaths, two of which were drownings. Ohio and Illinois each had 18 deaths while New York counted 16.

20,000 JAPS TRAPPED BY PARATROOPS

Hundreds of Airborne American Soldiers and Aussies Land Near Air Field in Markham Valley

HAD BEEN ABANDONED

BY VERN HAUGLAND
Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Sept. 7.—(P)—American paratroops cut off all possible land supply lines of some 20,000 Japanese troops in the Lae and Salamaua area of New Guinea with the capture of an enemy airfield in the Markham valley, Allied headquarters announced today.

The airstrip was seized Sunday when hundreds of airborne American soldiers and an Australian unit complete with machine guns, mortars, ammunition, rubber assault boats and radio landed near the field.

An Australian force, flown into an Allied advance base, marched overland five days to Rendzous near the occupied airfield with the American paratroops who had landed Sunday morning while General Douglas MacArthur looked on from a flying fortress.

A headquarters statement disclosed that the enemy airfield had not been used by the Japanese for months and was overgrown with kumal grass four to six feet high. The field, flat and level, easily can be placed into operating condition.

Capture of the airfield effectively helped close the trap on the defenders of Lae and Salamaua. The enemy was completely fooled. Some advisers said one Japanese patrol managed to fire a few mild shots at the descending troops. That constituted the opposition.

This spectacular mission, sprung on the fourth anniversary of Australia's entry into the war, followed by a day the landing of African-seasoned Australians above Lae Saturday from ships escorted by American men of war.

Advisory Council Of G.O.P. Meeting

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Mackinac Island, Mich., Sept. 7.—(P)—With a bristling indictment of what it termed new deal "instruments of Fascism," the Republican home front committee demanded today the establishment of a government agency with full powers over the production, distribution and prices of food.

The committee, headed by Senator Taft, of Ohio and numbering Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York and John W. Bricker of Ohio among its members, urged the Republican advisory council of 49 in a lengthy report to offer the country a program of increased production and improved distribution of food.

Its report went to council members as they met in executive session to consider a recommendation by its foreign policy committee, headed by Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan, for a statement of international peace aims.

Sub Menace Is Becoming Less Serious

Navy Discloses More Than 90 Enemy U-Boats Sent Down in Three Months

U. S. AIRCRAFT BUSY

Washington, Sept. 7.—(P)—The navy disclosed today that of the more than 90 enemy u-boats sunk during May, June and July, 29 were destroyed by American forces alone.

Twenty-four of the submarines were sent to the bottom by American naval forces, the navy said, and five were sunk by United States aircraft.

The navy's disclosure came shortly after Secretary Knox told newsmen that although the submarine menace may appear to be less serious than a few months ago, the lack of enemy activity may be because Germany has withdrawn many u-boats to bases for repairs and refitting with additional anti-aircraft weapons before launching new attacks.

President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill reported that nations fighting the Axis had sunk more than 90 submarines in May, June and July. The navy's announcement today failed to locate the actions.

47 DEAD IN HOTEL BLAZE IN HOUSTON

Flames in Rooming House Quickly Block Off Two Fire Escapes in Structure

MANY STILL MISSING

Houston, Tex., Sept. 7.—(P)—Forty-seven men, war workers, transients and old-age pensioners, died today in a fast-spreading fire that ravaged the Gulf Hotel at Preton and Louisiana streets, an ancient brick and frame structure.

Others of the 133 men listed on the hotel's register last night were in critical condition. Thirty-two were taken to hospitals, but 15 were soon released.

Police and fire officials said they believed all bodies had been removed from the ruins.

Eye-witnesses said many men jumped from the windows and a fire escape.

The blaze, discovered shortly after midnight, quickly blocked off one of the two fire escapes to the three-story brick structure. An inside stairway likewise was made impassable for those caught on the two upper floors.

Flames poured from every opening and crevice in the building, one of the oldest in Houston. Firemen could not lay ladders against it.

Police and firemen said only three of the 46 had so far been identified.

Bodies were taken to the city morgue for identification as rapidly as firemen pulled them from the still smoldering structure, one of the oldest in Houston.

Reds Advance Upon Capital Of Ukraine

BY HENRY C. CASSIDY

Moscow, Sept. 7.—(P)—The Red army in the Donets Basin has practically completed the recapture of the rich mining area while Russian forces advancing in the general direction of Kiev, capital city of Ukraine, jumped forward after capturing the rail junction of Konotop and are now threatening Bakhmach.

The Soviet air force, softening the way for the advancing ground troops, pounded the enemy front line and near rear bases where the retreating Germans were concentrating their forces in order to stem the advance of the Russian troops.

Heavy rains, miles of minefields, demolished bridges and roads and river crossings in addition to the German tanks, planes and infantry were unable to curb the Red (Turn to Page Seven)

Moscow Discounts Invasion of Italy

BY ROBERT C. WILSON

Canastota, N. Y., Sept. 7.—(P)—The eastbound 20th Century Limited, New York Central extra fare Chicago-New York train, was wrecked today when the locomotive's boiler exploded, killing the three crewmen in the cab.

At least seven others were injured when the flyer left the track at 4:34 a. m. two miles east of Canastota and 20 miles east of Syracuse.

Joseph Endres, Syracuse district claim agent for the railroad, who said the boiler explosion caused the wreck, reported 173 passengers were on the train.

The locomotive, coal car, mail car and nine of the 15 passenger cars were derailed. The first four cars plunged down an embankment.

Check of Hospitals Shows Many of 123 Injured Are Critical

Rescue Workers Seek to Crack Open Last Crumpled Coach Known to Contain Still More Bodies In Limited Crash

HOT WASTE-PACK JOURNAL BOX IS BLAMED

BULLETIN

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—(P)—Twisted wreckage of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Congressional Limited gave up seven more bodies to rescue workers at noon today, bringing to 65 the number known to have perished when the train piled up heading into a curve in northeast Philadelphia last night.

Philadelphia, Sept. 7.—(P)—The last crumpled coach of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Congressional Limited was cracked open by rescue workers today, yielding four more bodies to bring to 62 the number known to have perished when the train piled up on a curve last night.

At least 123 among the Labor Day crowd of 541 passengers were injured as the 16-car Washington to New York Express developed a "hot box" and crashed with a roar. Many in over-crowded hospitals were reported near death.

The newly-discovered bodies and remnants of bodies were taken to the city morgue, where crowds of sorrowing relatives, some hysterical, filed past long rows in an attempt to make identifications.

Workers immediately began dissecting the tangled metal of No. 7 coach. The railroad company said it was possible that its ruins would give up still more bodies.

The electric-powered train, which makes the 226-mile run in 210 minutes, with Newark, N. J., the first stop, and carried 541 passengers—many of them service men—was heading into a curve at Frankford Junction, in northeast Philadelphia when the accident occurred at 6:12 p. m. (EWI).

A waste-packed journal box "ran hot," railroad officials said, on the front of the seventh car of the 16-car train, burning the wheel loose from the axle.

The coach, hurtled into a steel pole supporting overhead power lines, was cut in two vertically as though by a giant axe. The coach behind jammed accordion-like against it. Six other cars behind them were thrown from the rails, but all the dead and most of the injured were in the seventh and eighth coaches.

Passengers were buried under the debris from which many of the living were not released until hours later. Some were thrown through windows; galley workers in the diner were scalded. One woman lay in the wreckage for six hours, calmly telling rescuers "Take your time, I can stand it."

Traffic on the mainline was still blocked early today, but freight and through passenger trains were rerouted around the city on a cut-off extending from Trenton, N. J., to Coatesville, Pa., 30 miles west of Philadelphia, and on other railroad lines.

Army guards with fixed bayonets and sub-machine guns headed a crowd away from the wreckage. Stretcher bearers had difficulty getting the dead and injured through the thousands who earlier had gathered at the scene, which is in crowded business and industrial section, three miles east of the north Philadelphia station.

All available ambulances went to the scene, and hundreds of air (Turn to Page Seven)

mission is unrevealed

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

Washington, Sept. 7.—(P)—President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill renew their war discussions today amid multiplying signs they are awaiting some momentous development—perhaps a definite peace bid from Italy.

Indirect peace pleas have been emanating from radio Rome for some time, and Enrico Galazzi, an official of the Vatican, which might be an agency through which formal overtures would be made, is on the way to Washington.

Mr. Churchill has been on this side of the Atlantic since Aug. 10, and while his current mission appears to have been fulfilled he as yet has exhibited no disposition to return to England.

Hence speculation developed that the two United Nations statesmen virtually are marking time.

Evidence that the Allied leaders had completed their planning task (Turn to Page Seven) ment. Others were strewn on the tracks, all of which were ripped up and twisted into weird shapes.

Endres said an investigation would be made to determine the cause of the boiler explosion.

Most of the passengers, returning home after the Labor Day holiday, were asleep when the accident occurred.

The main line was blocked completely. Eastbound trains were rerouted at Syracuse.

The Century is the fastest train on the Central's New York-Chicago run.

Collision On Erie East of Port Jervis

New York, Sept. 7.—(P)—Traffic on the Erie railroad's main line was blocked for two hours today after a combination express, passenger and milk train was derailed eight miles east of Port Jervis, N. Y., at 4 a. m., the railroad's general offices here said.

The 12-car train, known as No. 10, left Buffalo at 5:35 p. m., yesterday and was due to arrive in Jersey City at 5:45 a. m. Only one passenger car, a pullman sleeper on the rear, was included in the train. The locomotive and a milk car immediately behind it were derailed. The locomotive and a milk car immediately behind it were derailed but did not turn over, the railroad reported.

Two of the three main line tracks were blocked by the wreck.

Cars Crash Two Are Sent To Hospital

Crashing into a Dodge Coupe, driven by Sam Ceriola, of this city, a Ford Coach driven by William McCafferty, of 289 Rose street, Johnsonburg rammed the coupe 75 feet down the street and injured three persons Sunday afternoon at 4:20. The accident took place at the junction of Pennsylvania avenue and Market street, and the cars were locked together by the force of impact. Two of the three hurt were taken to the Warren General Hospital for treatment and held overnight.

Ceriola operating his car on Pennsylvania avenue was driving eastward and stopped at Market street for the traffic signal. McCafferty also driving eastward approached the intersection and drove heading into the parked car. The impact was terrific and the Ceriola car was driven across the intersection of West street a distance of over 75 feet.

The McCafferty car was driven by William McCafferty and he was accompanied by Mrs. McCafferty and their children William, Jr., aged 10; Jeanette, aged 8 and Mary Lou, aged 7. Also in the car were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Carter, of Johnsonburg and Arthur Ferack, of Sheffield. Nick Niedzialack, 15, of Warren was in the automobile with Ceriola.

When the cars came to a halt Paul Mead and Hart Wiley, who had witnessed the accident gave first aid and it was found that William McCafferty had sustained a severe cut on the nose and injuries about the chest and that Cecil Carter had a wrist injury and bruises. Jeanette McCafferty suffered cuts on the forehead and one of the two injured men were taken to the hospital.

Both cars were damaged, to some extent, the amount of damage on each car being assessed at about $75.

Patrolman Gaghan investigated the accident and in aiding in getting the cars apart suffered an injury to one hand.

They Are Saying: about the Home Front Pledge Campaign

With labor shortage and lack of materials, inflation is creeping forward, following the law of supply and demand. It is up to each one of us to do our best to hold it back. It will be a tough fight. People don't realize what inflation means. If they did, black markets would never have gotten the footing they have. When most people think of inflation, they think only of high prices. And it's a lot more than that. Devastating inflation can be controlled only by the purchasing public and not by government edict.

Labor Day Observed By Local Cops

The Labor Day holiday was out as far as the local police were concerned and they just crossed off the word "holiday" and it became Labor Day. It was a busy week and there were no unusual happenings but just one thing after another until the whole rolled up into a conglomeration of hustle and hike.

Drunks gave the police a lot of bother. They bobbed up here and there weaving about the town and several enjoyed a ride to the cell room while others were shooed home and one or two were taken home. The borough coffers were given a considerable swelling by the fines and costs.

A discharged soldier broke and thirly purloined a pair of watches from a West End watch repairer and the police had to go out and run down a fellow from RD 3. The watches were recovered and the fellow was chased homeward. He is one of the good old regulars who in years past has given the police much work.

Backing of automobiles in the Fourth ward out of parking places resulted in investigations but things were adjusted amicably.

There were some barking dogs that had to be silenced.

Edward Stingle, of Jamestown was picked up and is being held in the county jail for the District Attorney's further attention.

On the East Side a fellow went home with an overabundance of joy juice aboard and it evidently soured as he threatened to kill his wife and other little things. Gathered into the bosom of the police station on a disorderly conduct charge he paid the costs and was discharged.

In addition to the escorting of money to the banks, mail trucks at various times the police aided in getting aid for two sick women and did a number of other good deeds.

THE LONG NIGHT

By Eleanor Atterbury

Chapter 18
THEY crouched there for nearly an hour considering one plan after another. To attempt to scale the mountain at night was impossible. To wait until daylight was simply to invite a Jap bullet. But how to get down that murderous guard blocking the trail now?

"Our only chance of getting back to the Port now is to skirt the island. It isn't large," Scott added, "though appearing small from four or five hundred feet up doesn't mean it will seem small when we come to walk around it."

"It couldn't be any worse than climbing those mountains," Night had followed the long twilight more abruptly than usual and the wind was rising. Bette felt drops of rain.

"Whatever we do, we've got to do it quickly or we'll be caught like rats," Scott said. "They probably won't miss me down there for awhile yet." He laughed abruptly, softly. "I've been locked up for the night. Having had nothing to eat for a week, I'm considered in good shape to start a little of their fancy third degree tactics tomorrow."

"Oh, Scott. How horrible." "Uh-huh. I thought it was time I moved on."

"But how did you—?" "Luck. And a little scrimmage practice. If that luck holds, they won't miss me until dawn tomorrow," he whispered. "This bird down here is just an outpost sentry. He thinks he heard a noise back there, but he's not sure. Not sure enough to bother coming up this hill."

"Then maybe he'll go away pretty soon."

"I doubt it. This is part of his regular beat. He'll probably squat right there until daylight."

BETTE was silent a moment. Her own thoughts rounding up new escape possibilities. Then, "Have you a gun?"

"None. Nothing, but a nasty looking knife I borrowed back there."

"Paul Porter has my pistol," she told him. "And a first-aid kit is all I have to offer."

"We may need that, all right," he said grimly. "Look. As I figure it, there's only one thing we can do now."

Then swiftly he outlined a plan. Simple enough—if it worked—and it had to work.

"Are you game?" Scott concluded.

"Of course." Now that the plan was decided, she was eager to put an end to the long waiting. "Let's go."

Sheffield Girl Spending Busy Days In Europe

A special dispatch to the Times-Mirror from the army headquarters in the European theatre of operations concerns Mildred K. Barr, Sheffield girl who has been in the Army Nurse Corps for the past seven months.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Barr, of Sheffield, and was at the Meadville City Hospital before entering the service. A brother, Karl, who was formerly the Times-Mirror's correspondent in Sheffield, is a sergeant in the army.

The dispatch reads: A comprehensive study of army customs and practices, training in self-defense and a general understanding of the operations of a military hospital is all part of a day's work for 2nd Lt. Barr, who is at a station hospital somewhere in England.

Besides her regular duty of caring for patients in the ward, Lt. Barr spends several hours a week studying military courtesy and discipline, learning the articles of war and army regulations, military correspondence methods, close order drill, pack rolling, the proper way to dig a fox-hole and pitch a tent in a field. Other off-duty time is spent in learning management, functions of military supply, classification of military hospitals and military sanitation.

Miss Barr, like the other nurses in the European theatre of operations, is enthusiastic about her work and happy to do her part toward winning the war. Along with the other nurses she is gaining experience and training in her professions and at the same time is working with men the nurses call "the best patients in the world—American soldiers."

PORTRAIT OF A PATRIOT?

We recently heard of someone who was boasting she had gas to drive about. "My doctor just told them I couldn't stand crowds!" So she has gas. She drives about in the same ease and comfort of a world at peace. War doesn't touch her, only in that she complains about not being able to get everything she wants. And she feels each lack in food or merchandise as a personal affront to her.

She thinks the way prices are going up is terrible. "No telling where it'll end!" She has heard of ceiling prices but hasn't bothered to find out what they are, or to stick to them. She'll pay any price as long as she has what she's used to having to eat. Being who she is, she thinks it's only her due.

She buys some war bonds. They're a good investment. But not too many. Right now she has a good piece of money on hand she's worrying over how to invest.

She likes to do surgical dressings one or two mornings a week, as she goes when her friends are there and it's a pleasant time for gossiping. Besides, the Red Cross headress is so becoming to her...

She loves to serve on committees which emphasize her importance in the community, and on which there is little real work to be done. And her well-dressed figure gives some of the dower members something to think about. Of course she buys new clothes, some as always.

And she's not as concerned over the loss of 58 bombers over Europe as over that $1.28 she lost at bridge the other night.

Here is the portrait of an American Lady. Would you call her a Patriot?

BACK TO SCHOOL

Today marks the end of what must have appeared to be a very short vacation for school children of the borough. Tomorrow they will be back in their classrooms and the annual nine months' grind will be under way again. For most of the members of the teaching staff vacation ended yesterday, for they were back at their desks today preparing for the reopening tomorrow.

School officials and members of the board of education have been planning for weeks for resumption of classes and students will find that all of the buildings have been completely renovated during the summer with repairs and installations made that will add greatly to their comfort.

MEAT POINT VALUES MAY DROP

Further reductions on meat undoubtedly will appear on the October point chart. The stampede of cattle and sheep held back for price reasons, and now beginning to come in from parched ranges, should reach your market by then. The drop of one point in September on some beef and lamb cuts doesn't do much more than give you the two extra points you will have to have for butter.

The rise in butter points was inevitable. There is a nation-wide clamor for butter, which remains very short. Optimism over the new supplies created by the reduction from 30 to 20 per cent in the amount taken for military uses will probably come to a dismal end.

Production of butter is going down so fast that this change will not make much difference in your market. There is a good deal of margarine available at four points a pound. It will have to substitute for some of your butter.

SIGN OF THE TIMES

For those who have little faith in the ability of common people to govern themselves, there is a lesson in news from New York that the Garment Workers' Union has purchased Tammany Hall.

For generations the name Tammany stood for scandalous misgovernment, though actually the Society of Tammany was a social organization in whose hall the New York County Democratic organization met to organize raids on the public treasury and against the taxpayers' welfare.

Now the onus of the name has become too great. The county organization is divorcing itself from the stigma. And the social organization, unable to stand alone, has moved out of its million-dollar clubhouse.

CHANCES TO HELP

Three Million volunteers—twice as many as in the second war loan drive—will be needed this month for the Treasury's third war loan campaign.

For those who want to help, but cannot tie themselves up on a permanent basis, here is a chance to help Uncle Sam.

All Set for a Rush of Business

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—While all eyes were centered on the Quebec conference (and nobody was seeing much of anything) the British made a move here which may be one of the most significant in the whole future of our war in the Pacific.

The British Information Service revealed that a special British military, naval and air mission had arrived here to study all the problems of tactics, weapons, supply, communications, transport, and medical services connected with the war against Japan.

The point was underlined that this mission would have no decisions to make in connection with operational planning.

All of which adds up to the fact that talk that the Quebec conference was centered on strategic plans for the war against Japan was so much eye-wash.

Missions concerned wholly with details about weapons, supply lines, etc., aren't even thought of until the major operational strategies are laid out.

THE broad outlines for a combined British-American offensive against the Nips must have been laid down long ago—probably at the Washington conference between Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt last May. That's when Generals Stilwell, Cennault, Ewatt (from Australia) and Wavell (from India) were present and reporting. It is possible that at that time, too, there was a decision to appoint a new Southeast Asia commander to lead the operations against Burma, the recently named Lord Louis Mountbatten.

There are two important things about the new British mission that seem to have been overlooked: (1) Its composition. It is headed by Maj. Gen. J. S. Lethbridge, one of England's most distinguished officers in the Royal Engineers. Naval members are topped by Rear Admiral F. H. W. Gooldeen and Surgeon Captain H. W. Fitzroy Williams. Also from the army is Brigadier H. Bartlett; and from the air corps, Air Commodore L. R. Maclean and Group Captain W. R. Clements, of the Royal Canadian air force. And when Mountbatten arrived in Washington, that covered about the entire field of military operations.

(2) Its plans for survey. These plans include not only a series of thorough conferences with supply, maintenance, communications, etc., officials in Washington, but a visit to the vital military and naval establishments in this country and after that a junket to all the fronts in the Pacific theater.

GENERAL Lethbridge's mission isn't window dressing. If it had been, they wouldn't virtually have sneaked into town under cover of the Quebec conference.

They are here for a purpose—and that purpose is working out the details for a combined British-American offensive against the legions of Hirohito that'll make Kiska, Guadalcanal, New Georgia, and even Midway seem like bloody little sideshows.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Presidents of the United States, from George Washington to Franklin D. Roosevelt, have been characters in many motion pictures. Up to now the only President who has been made the central character in a picture is Abraham Lincoln. Now comes "Wilson."

"Wilson"—the story of Woodrow Wilson, World War I President—will be Hollywood's first film calling attention to questions which already, before this war is won, are being discussed fervently over the world. The same questions, not answered satisfactorily despite Wilson's efforts, faced the world last time.

FOR a year now, screenwriter Lamar Trotti has been delving into the life story of the Princeton professor whose name is honored at Geneva as father of the League of Nations. And if you think a movie about Wilson is pretty sure to be dull—then Lamar Trotti is the man to see. Trotti is so sold that he intends to keep right on studying the Wilson life for the rest of his own.

He has read practically everything there is to read about Wilson, has gone to Washington to dig into the Congressional Library, to Florida to see Ray Stannard Baker, author of the late President's definitive biography.

who already has given 25 years to the work.

"Wilson may have seemed cold and aloof on the surface," he says. "Underneath he was a gay man, a half-Irish, you know, a great family man, a wonderful storyteller and conversationalist. He loved to sing and had a good voice; he was crazy about the theater, football and baseball; he was the first President to have moving picture equipment in the White House."

"Our picture will be a family story, and as such should be entertaining. We are aiming at a true and factual statement without taking sides, though naturally our protagonist will be portrayed sympathetically."

TO COVER Wilson's life from 1910, when he was president of Princeton, through the eleven dramatic years of his political life to his death will require 16 reels, most of the studio's stage space, and about eight months of shooting—all of which indicates the scope of the undertaking.

Not until this is completed, according to present plans, will the studio begin filming what will be its logical sequel, thematically speaking, Wendell Willkie's "One World." Plans for this property, acquired for $250,000, are still nebulous, but apparently no attempt will be made at a fictional story to back up the Willkie argument for international cooperation.

A New Flavor—Star Bacon & Broiled Peaches

Here's a brand new blend of two fine flavors! Just combine the rich, mildly smoked flavor of bacon with the juicy goodness of broiled peaches... and you'll have a taste treat that's bound to become a family favorite!

Allow 2 to 3 slices of bacon per person. And since you'll want fine flavor, we suggest you get Armour's Star Bacon. For Star Bacon is slow smoked over fragrant hickory and hardwood fires... giving it a mild, savory goodness that's just right! Peel and halve 3 to 4 fresh peaches.

Spread them with 1/4 cup brown sugar, dot with Cloverbloom butter and sprinkle with 1 tsp. lemon juice. Place on broiler rack 4 inches under heat unit and broil slowly 5-6 minutes. Add bacon strips to rack and continue broiling until lightly crisped and brown... about 6 minutes.

Serve the bacon and peaches on a big plate with squares of golden corn bread. It's a hearty meal that's different... and delicious!

Couple at Russell Celebrate Golden Wedding Day Sun.

September 5th marked the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sears, of Russell, and open house was held in their home from three until eight o'clock by their two nieces and nephew, Albert, Margaret and Lewis Sears.

Mr. and Mrs. Sears were married in 1893 by Rev. R. J. White, with Fred Hooker and Miss Viola Swartz, both deceased, as their attendants. For seven years they made their home in Warren, then moved to a farm at Akeley and there made their home for 21 years. From that time, they have resided in Russell. Mr. Sears is township supervisor and both are active in the civic affairs of their community.

Well over 100 guests called at their home Sunday to congratulate them and wish them many more happy years together. During the afternoon, several poems were read which had been written for the occasion by John Van Orsdale, Mrs. Gussie Annis and Mrs. Lizzie White.

Mrs. Sears wore for the anniversary an aqua print, with a corsage of yellow roses which had been presented to her by Miss Effie Akely, who, it so happened, presented a similar corsage to the bride 50 years ago. The honored guest had a sample of her wedding gown, her gloves and handkerchief, all received much attention from the guests.

During the afternoon refreshments were served to the many guests including those who came from Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Erie, Oil City, Warren, North Warren, Corydon, Frewsburg, Sugar Grove, Fentonville and Jamestown. The couple received many gifts, cards, flowers and a purse of money.

On Sunday morning, during the Swedish Mission broadcast from Station WJTN at Jamestown, a song, "Under His Wings", was dedicated to the couple at the request of Mrs. F. B. Yagie, of Russell.

Warren Dragons Split Weekend Bill on Russell Field

Dragons Nab 21-13 Contest From Youngsville Eagles For First Win of Season Saturday

By Bob Johnson

The Warren Dragons starting off their 1943 grid season Saturday ran rampant over the Youngsville Red and White charges in the first half of the game and wound up with a 21 to 13 victory tucked in the bag.

However, the Eagles of down-county, usually taken lightly as a warmer-upper for the Dragon machine, opened up a powerhouse in late moments of the contest and laid the bleacherites standing more than once.

The locals scored quickly in the first session after a fumble by Daley was recovered by Vesling deep in Youngsville territory on the 25 yard stripe. Vesling and Greene reeled off two yards on successive plunges on each. Then Arrigo, fleet quarter for the Blue and White, slipped a pass over the Youngsville line into the hands of Charley McLean, who side-stepped two enemy grid-ders and crossed into pay dirt standing up. Vesling hit the line for the extra point and Warren took the lead 7 to 0.

Again in the second quarter the local gridders drew blood fast when a quick by Daley was blocked by Warren's Schmader and, who followed it up for recovery in the Pizzaro's 24.

Vesling took over on the first play long enough to smash a gap at left tackle and was pulled down on the Youngsville 11, and a first down. A pass by Gusto Arrigo was knocked down just short of the goal line, but on the next play Arrigo repeated tactics and this time Chuck McLean snared the oval in a beautiful catch and in one step had added 6 points to the heavy end, again crossed standing up.

The entire second team then entered the contest for the rest of the period but neither outfit managed to advance into danger position and the halftime recorded the score at 14 to 0.

The Youngsville backfield started to roll in the early third quarter and a fumble by Vesling in Warren territory nearly set up their initial tally, but when they worked the pignskin from the 35 down to the 26 on a series of kick reverse plays with Freeborough and Daley carting the ball 9 yards, but a poorly aimed pass by Daley was grabbed by Chuck McLean of the locals to end the threat.

Vesling punted out of danger with a beautiful kick of 66 yards, and the Red and White took over on their own 13. One try by Freeborough around left end netted 7 yards to the 20, but, deciding to kick out of danger, a low one off the boot of Daley hit Greene of the Warren squad in the middle, where it stuck and he carried it over to the Youngsville sidelines and down over the counter spot for the third local touchdown. Vesling, Warren fullback clipped the line for the extra point and a 21 to 0 score.

Coach Pizzaro's boys took the Warren kickoff and really started to display some of the talent for advance they've had drilled into them, by opening their bag of tricks and showing some T-formation stuff that had the fans at their toes for the entire third quarter.

Tom's boot to Daley was taken on the 20 and brought to the 33 before he was stopped by "Snicker" Beyer. Then Olds smashed through to the 39 on a fake reverse. Another of the same variety lost 3 yards with Daley punting on the next play. Tome pulled

Jack Has Taken Lessons, But Montgomery's Punches May Make Him Forget Schooling

Blue and White Takes 25 to 0 Rap As Golden Lions of Erie Go Through Paces on Holiday

The local scholastic football squad suffered its first loss in two starts yesterday on Russell Field, losing to the Erie Academy Lions by a 25 to 0 score.

Never once offering a serious threat to the Green and Gold of Erie, the locals were scored on once in every quarter, and although the breaks took an off day for Dragontown, the Lions ripped off sizeable gains almost at will and any doubt of the outcome was soon rubbed off the slate.

Both teams fought on practically even terms till mid-quarter, until the Drakemen took to the air lanes with a barrage of bullet passes that caught the locals flat-footed and found them on the short end right away.

Truitt, fleet wingback for the Erieites, took Vesling's punt on the Warren 30 and raced back to the 2 before being pulled down. Then he uncorked a pass to Housemann, right end for an 18 yard gain. Jaworek ripped through the center of the line for 2 and another pass from Truitt to Housemann hit the target on the 20 yard stripe and he stepped along the sidelines into pay dirt for first blood. A placekick by Housemann failed. Score 6-0.

The Dragon line was holding all through the rest of the quarter and no serious threats were put down for them to handle, but again in the second session the sky school of Coach Lowell Drake hit their target for today to bring the inflated skin nearly into the end zone once and finally to make it count.

After McLean's fumble was recovered by Erie on the local 35 Truitt streaked around right end for 15 yards and Whipple clipped the line twice for 9 more to the 11, and Truitt made two more, but Schmader recovered Jaworek's fumble and Vesling booted out of danger to halt the tide.

Into the late moments of the second period, both teams again played on even terms but the Blue and White breaks started to close in on them and even though they stopped a push to the 8 yard with Hope Windows at the State Hospital grounds. They will attempt to book another game for Friday evening, with practice sessions through the entire week.

All players of the Forge team and fans in Warren or Irvine, or any person who can spare a few hours each evening in preparing to get the field in shape are requested to report there any afternoon between three and six o'clock. Forge players are aiding in this work besides offering their services Sunday and will appreciate any help.

As stated before this is to be a benefit game, the proceeds to be donated to the Civil Air Patrol toward a fund being raised to purchase a new training ship for the local field.

Following is a list of business firms where tickets may be obtained for the big benefit baseball game to be played at Wilder Field, Irvine, Sunday, September 12th, between the National Forge and Erie Gunners:

Shows Many of 123 Injured Are Critical

raid wardens were mobilized to help, firemen, soldiers and sailors in rescue work. Hospitals pleaded for registered nurses and blood donors.

The last person to be taken alive from the wreckage, Mrs. Christina Nix, 28 of Long Island City, N. J., died in a hospital in mid-morning.

A physician had amputated her leg to free her from the wreckage, in which she lay six hours with her head and torso outside a sheared coach and both legs held firmly inside.

It was she who had said, "take you time. I can stand it."

"There are dead people in here all around me," she moaned to a physician who administered a drug to relieve the pain. A marine who had occupied the seat with Mrs. Nix lay dead nearby.

At Frankford hospital, where hundreds of people went in response to a plea for blood donations, a woman, her clothing torn to shreds, her face covered with blood and dirt, helped carry the inert body of her husband into the emergency room. An interne made a quick examination and waived the body to an improvised morgue. The wife was taken to another room for treatment before her name was given.

Harrisburg, Sept. 7.—(P)—The Public Utility Commission today sent two investigators to Philadelphia to aid in determining the cause of the wreck of the Pennsylvania Railroad Congressional limited there last night.

The investigators are George B. Taylor and Daniel F. Harnish of the commission's bureau of engineers.

Other aerial activities last night, by the air ministry said, included intruder patrols by the fighter command over airfields in France. Naval aircraft also blasted light Nazi naval craft near the French channel coast.

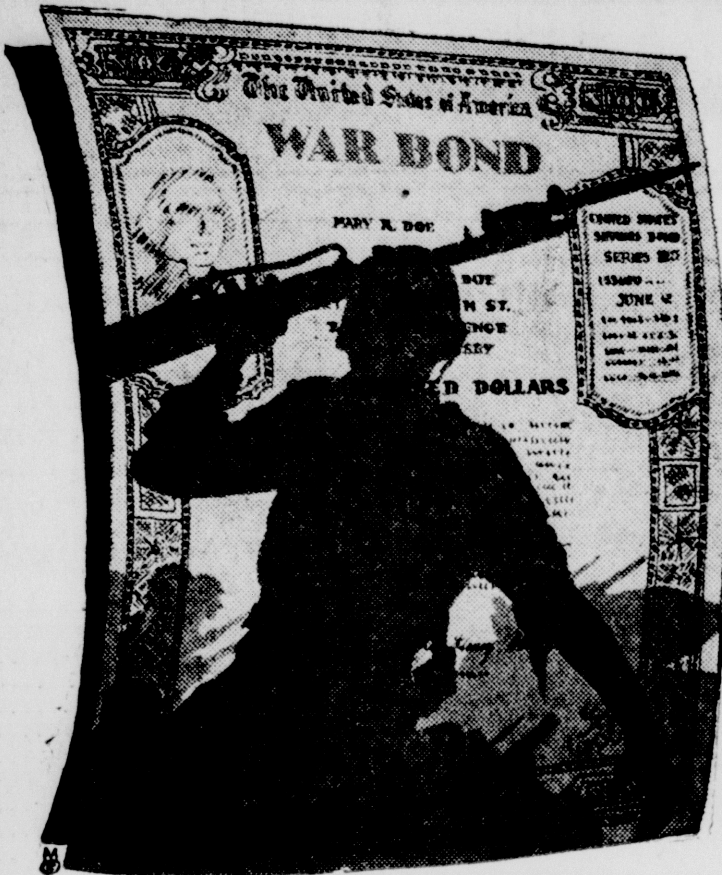

Last night's attack was the RAF's fourth successful night assault on Germany, beginning with a heavy raid on Berlin last Friday night.

In retaliation for these assaults the German air force struck back at Britain last night in comparatively small force, scattering bombs over the Thames estuary and touching off a brief alert in some districts of London about 3:30 a. m. No bombs fell in the capital, however.
